Best Practice 2: Digital Learning and Management (DLM)

Objectives:

To enhance the quality of education, streamline administrative processes and foster a culture of continuous learning and innovation within Taki Government College (TGC) adopts the use of digital tools and technologies. The aim is to enhance efficiency in Digital Learning and Management (DLM) primarily for teaching-learning and assessment, student and faculty data management, student admission, student scholarship verifications, recording internal marks, maintenance of store and controlling of the PG Examination procedure.

The Context:

Amid the COVID-19 pandemic, there was a crucial need for educational institutions to shift towards digital platforms for both learning and management, emphasizing the importance of adapting to digital solutions for the continuity of education and the efficiency of administrative tasks. Our institution had already integrated DLM practices to enhance the educational experience, increase accessibility, and streamline administrative procedures, in preparation for a future where digital proficiency is a necessity.

Challenges:

- Initial lack of comprehensive digital infrastructure and tools to support a fully online environment.
- Ensuring all students and faculty to access the necessary technology and internet connectivity to address the digital divide.
- Training faculty, staffs and students to effectively use digital tools and platforms.
- Maintaining high levels of student engagement and interaction in a virtual learning environment.

The Practice:

- Learning Management Systems (LMS): Implementation of a robust LMS to manage course materials, assignments, online MCQ assessments, and communication between students and faculty members. Deployment of a comprehensive LMS to manage course content, track students' progress, and facilitate communication between students and faculty.
- Examinations management: Managing the PG examination through the controller module of ERP and recording internal and practical marks through University portal

- Digitized Administrative Services: Transforming administrative processes such as admissions, fee payments, student records management, and faculty evaluations into fully online operations.
- Feedback and Improvement Mechanisms: Regularly collecting and analyzing feedback from students and faculty to identify areas for improvement and address issues promptly.
- Student database management and student scholarship verifications: Managing the process of student verification, attendance, scholarship verifications considering the huge number of students of this college.
- Financial Management: Through WBIFMS & PFMS

Uniqueness:

- Flexibility to switch between online and offline learning modes as required, ensuring continuity and adaptability as a part of hybrid learning model.
- Utilization of interactive tools and platforms can enhance student engagement and foster collaboration in the virtual environment.
- Complete digitization of PG Examination from form fill-up to publication of mark sheets.

Evidence of Success:

- The teachers and students have accepted the platform with great zeal. The live platform signifies a paradigm shift in the teaching learning methodology. It is a significant shift towards digital pedagogy. Since inception, teachers and students have expressed their complete satisfaction with this dedicated e-learning platform. Students' attendance is also considerably good over the digital platform.
- The PG Examination Management System has incorporated end-to-end digitization process, where the following operations are performed through the dedicated portal- Form fill-up; Digital codification by system of each candidate against each subject-paper; DR List Generation with Photo of Candidate and Subject/Paper name; Admit Card Generation with photo of Candidate; Award List and Top Sheet Generation based on Codification; Digital management for assigning specific roles like Paper Setter-Moderator-Evaluator; Anonymous evaluation with digitally set deadlines; Digital control of operations where Evaluators are permitted functions of marks-entry only against specifically assigned subject-paper; Email/SMS service for evaluators containing Hyperlink and password for marks entry in the portal against the Codes of Candidates; Automatic calculation for average marks, integers and 3rd Examiner cases; Automatic calculation of Paper Credit, Grade Point, Letter Grade, SGPA and CGPA against awarded marks; Progressive calculations in case of students appearing for Supplementary Examinations; Options for tallying before Result Publication; Marksheet Generation; Hosting of data in a secure server;

Integration of published Result and Marksheet with Digilocker and National Academic Depository (NAD).

- Faculty members successfully transitioned to utilizing digital teaching methods and tools.
- Significant improvement in the speed and efficiency of administrative processes PG result publication has been observed.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

- Most of the students at TGC are from remote rural areas. Digital illiteracy and cost of internet-data stood as the main constraints for the students. However, a detailed training slide was prepared for educating the students to properly join and continue the classes.
- Frequent technical issues and connectivity problems necessitated continuous IT support and infrastructure improvements.
- Keeping students engaged in a digital environment required innovative teaching strategies and interactive tools.

Requirements:

- Training Programmes: Development and delivery of comprehensive training sessions for all stakeholders.
- Technical Support Team: Establishment of a dedicated IT support team and help-desk services.
- Cyber-security Measures: Implementation of comprehensive cyber-security protocols and regular audits.

By adopting the best practice of DLM, our institution has successfully navigated the transition to a resilient and flexible digital academic and administrative model, ensuring continuity, excellence, and inclusivity in education and services.
